ANNOTATION

Belmaz Y. Professional Characteristics of Higher Education Faculty in the USA and Great Britain

In the article the structure of the faculty in the USA and Great Britain is demonstrated; requirements to activity of American and British higher education teachers are analysed; some peculiarities of the faculty's activity are highlighted.

Key words: faculty, higher education establishment, professor, scientific degree.

Bondar A. The concept of "information culture" in cross-disciplinary scientific discourse

This article is devoted to clarifying the concept of "information culture" in social, personal, personal and professional aspects. Author presented a definition of information culture.

Key words: information culture, the culture of society, the culture of the individual.

Burenko M. Competence approach as a paradigm for training trainers and teachers

Analyzed the views of domestic and foreign authors on the interpretation of the terms "competence approach", "competence" and "professional competence". Presented their own definitions of these concepts, but also shows the structure of professional competence of the coach-teacher.

Key words: competence, competence approach, professional competence, trainer and teacher.

Chen N. Integration of different kinds of art as a basis for training teachers visual arts

The questions of integration of educational material, roles of integration of the articles of aesthetically beautiful direction, are examined in the article, in the process of preparation of future teachers of fine art.The example of creative task is offered.

Key words: integration, computer-integrated forms of studies, programs of computer-integrated educational objects.

Cheremisova I. The essence of organization as personality traits

The given research touches upon the main directions of modern system of student organization as the main quality of a person and the ability to plan an use the time rationally.

Key words: organization, person, planning, calmness.

Cherepehina O. Pedagogical support of processes of "self" during forming of professionalism of future psychologists at higher school

The necessity of pedagogical support of process of forming of professionalism of future psychologists is grounded in the article. Theoretical bases of this process is analysed. The processes of "self-" as factors of forming of professionalism are examined for students.

Key words: forming of professionalism, professional preparation of psychologists in Institute of higher, pedagogical support, processes "self-", professionalism, future psychologist.

Danchenko I. Formation of social maturity of students in higher educational institutions as the technical prerequisite for the implementation of full life-support person

The article devoted to the substantiation of theoretical and methodological foundations of the formation of social maturity of students in higher educational institutions of technicaland conditions of its implementation in the educationalrostranstve.The effectiveness of the process of establishing social maturity of students by a complex of organizational-pedagogical conditions, which include social and professional orientation of the educational process, conducting classes, to self-determination and self-development; creating psychologically comfortable climate and situation of success for all the subjects of cognitive activity.

Key words: social maturity, social activity, social position, extracurricular cognitive activity.

Dyachenko M. Formation of the person the future of the journalist as the architect their own professionalism

The article makes an attempt to reveal the essence of the concept "journalistic professionalism", the scientific views on the problem of formation of the creative personality of the future of journalist and his creative self-development during the training.

Key words: journalist, personality, professionalism, self-development, self-development, self-fulfilment, creativity.

Fomin V. The role of the course "Theory and methods of pre-schools' cooperation with the families" in the training of future teachers

In the article the role of the special course is considered "Theory and methodology of collaboration of pre-school establishments with families" in professional preparation of future educators. Meaningfulness of introduction of this special course is certain in the educational process of higher pedagogical establishments. The specific of teaching of this course is exposed and the interactive forms of realization of seminar employments are reflected.

Key words: the special course, future educators of pre-school establishments, co-operation, collaboration with parents, interactive forms.

Funtikova O. The use of models in shaping the knowledge of the time in pre-school children

The article analyzed the use of sign-symbolic, linear, circular, material and dimensional models of the formation of knowledge about time for preschoolers. It is established that the system model affects the hierarchization, sistematizatsiyu knowledge of the time in preschool children.

Key words: model, knowledge of the time, preschool children, preschool education, training aids.

Grinn L. Essence, maintenance and structure of vocal preparation of future actor in the system of trade education

The article is actual for consideration in a scientific sphere. In the article the questions of essence of vocal preparation of actor are examined in the system of trade education. Also that the purpose of teaching of actor of musical-dramatic theater in all track of vocal preparation is capture all vocal-technical skills is underlined in the article, and ability to apply these skills in the future to practical activity of profession of actor-vocalist.

Key words: voice training, actor-vocalist, solfedgio.

Guselnikova S. Conceptual approaches to the definition information competence

In the article we have presented the conceptual approaches to the essence of the concept of informational competence in comparison with realities of today. We have analyzed the concept of informational competence content matching the international law occupation.

Key words: information competence, informational competence of international lawyers, professional activity of experts on international law, of IT, information culture, information literacy, information technology expertise.

Kabak Y. Reforming higher education engineering construction of Ukraine in the period adjustment

The article examines the reforms which were held in Civil Engineering Education in Ukraine during "perestroyka" at the end of the 80th. There was analyzed their influence on the formation of the national education system.

Key words: reformation of education, "peresroyka", integration.

Kapchenko O. Pedagogical skills in the heritage of I. Tkachenko

This article interprets the sight of our famous Ukrainian teacher of the second half of the twentieth century on the essence of teacher's pedagogical culture and the ways of its formation. The importance of creative application of Tkachenko's pedagogical inheritance on the modern stage of national educational system's development in Ukraine is underlined in it.

Key words: pedagogical trade, pedagogical legacy, rural teacher, culture of teacher, teacher-scientist, teacher-researcher, pedagogical erudition, intellectual formed.

Karakatsanis T. Factors for development of the preparation of teachers primary school in the Great Britain

This work is devoted to defining and characterizing the factors which influence the development of would-be primary school teacher training in the UK.

Key words: primary school teacher, training, primary school.

Khaustova E. Spiritual relationship competence teachers and spiritual potential

The author characterizes the spiritual competence of teacher as variety of his professional competence which presents readiness to spiritual education and self-improvement. A spiritual competence appears the actualized display of spiritual potential of teacher in professional activity. The essence of concept "spiritual competence of teacher" as integral personality aggregate, which combines the realized knowledges, abilities and skills, values, qualities, spiritual experience, which allow the teacher to develop spiritual potential of pupil and own personality has been determined in the article. The constituents of spiritual competence of teacher has been considered and described here.

Key words: teacher's spiritual potential, competence, spiritual competence, spiritual experience.

Kokorina L. Procedure find talented students in Spain

Highlighted the process of identifying gifted children in Spain. Considered and describes the main ways and means of obtaining information during the identification of gifted children and identified the stages of the last.

Key words: talent, education in Spain, the identification of gifted and talented identification stage.

Kolomiichenko S. Training and development of exceptional children as a psychological and pedagogical problem

In the article on the basis of the analysis of the domestic and foreign psychological and pedagogical literature features of training and development of exceptional children are considered. Versions of the programs focused on training of gifted schoolboys (educational, developing and educational developing) are allocated and the basic requirements to which she should answer are defined.

Key words: gifted children, educational programs, the principles of creative development.

Kopytkov D. Psychological and pedagogical diagnosing of students concerning professional readiness for practical work

Methods of psychological and pedagogical diagnosing which are applied in educational process and different areas of science and industry have been analyzed. Test questions to reveal the readiness level for the future production operation of experts on the organization of transportations and motor transport management have been given.

Key words: psychological and pedagogical diagnosing, attestation test questions, estimation scale.

Korobeinik V. The features of independent work of physical education in the system of higher educational establishments

On the basis of analysis of literary sources the question of features of independent work of physical education is examined within the limits of the integral system of organizational forms and methods of studies in higher educational establishments.

Key words: motivation, system, functional possibilities preparedness, independent work.

Kovalenko O. The regularities and principles of teaching of academically gifted primary school pupils

The regularities of teaching of academically gifted primary school pupils have been exposed in detail in the article. It has been defined, that not only general didactic principles, but also heuristic principles of teaching must be taken into consideration in the process of teaching of academically gifted primary school pupils.

Key words: teaching regularity, teaching principle, general didactic principle, heuristic principle.

Kramarenko A. Social nature values of the future professionals of an elementary education in socially-philosophical measurement

In article social nature values of the future professionals of an elementary education in socially-philosophical measurement are considered.

It is analyzed the socially-philosophical literature on the given problematic, the general and distinctive positions in scientific operating time are certain.

Key words: values, social nature values of the future professionals of an elementary education.

Kravchenko E. The structure of legal culture

In the article on the basis of the analysis of the scientific literature the structure of the legal culture which elements are the legal consciousness and legal behaviour is considered. Levels of legal culture are allocated.

Key words: legal culture, legal consciousness, legal behaviour.

Kravchenko I. Theoretical and methodological basis for the formation of moral behavior in children

The forms of the outschool work with the teenagers are rised in the article. They help to form positive motivations in doing moral things.

Key words: the child, the moral action, the behavior.

Kulichenko A. Sociocultural determinants of opinion formation W.H. Kilpatrick (1871–1965) as an educational reformers

The article deals with the discovery of sociocultural determinants, which have had an influence on W.H. Kilpatrick's ideas as founder of project method and educator-reformer. This paper describes, explaines and predicts the prospects of further usage of the most significant research scientist positions. Besides, it suggests the impact of the pedagogue's innovative ideas in American educational thought, developed under John Dewey's pragmatic pedagogy, on modern educational paradigms.

Key words: educator-reformer, founder, project method, successor, pragmatic pedagogy.

Kvas E. Pedagogy "new education" as a reformist movement at the turn of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

The paper explores the nature of that reform movement called "new education". "New Education" at the beginning of its existence as a critical movement, characterized by significant not only teaching, but also social radicalism. The immediate aim of the new pedagogy was to study the nature of childhood and the ways of identity formation during the whole period of childhood. The main contention of Education "new education" was declared "pedocentrism" – pedagogy, which comes from the child.

Key words: new education, Reformed pedagogy, child, childhood, pedocentrism.

Lebedeva V. Education efforts as a basis for building professional status of future teachers

In the article examined educational-cognitive activity as subsoil of forming of professional status of future teacher. The basic signs educational-cognitive to activity of future teacher are characterized.

Key words: educational-cognitive activity, professional status of future teacher.

Malneva O. The creative component of is professional-ethical culture of the future teacher

In the article the essence of concepts "creativity" and "pedagogical creativity", "abilities" is considered. Indicators and criteria of professional-ethical culture of the teacher are allocated.

Key words: creativity, pedagogical creativity, abilities.

Manokhina I. "Business Game" as an effective method of preparation of future social teachers

The article deals with scientific basing of the meaning "Business Game" in different scientific publications. The advantages of using Business Game as an effective method of preparedness of future social teachers for dealing with children-orphans and children deprived of parents care were analyzed.

Key words: Business Game, Social Teacher, Children-orphans.

Marchuk I. The method of writing by students of a scientific article in a foreign language on the results of research work

The principles of writing student's paper as a result of the scientific research are represented in the article.

Key words: scientific research, principles of writing, scientific paper.

Markova V. Actualization of professional growth as a condition of success of activity of the teacher

In the article questions of actualization of professional growth as presence of constant aspiration to self-improvement which is carried out by self-actualization potential individual a possibilities of the person, and also by means of use of possibilities of system improvements of professional skill of teachers in system of continuous formation are considered.

Key words: actualization, professional growth, success, activity, self-actualization.

Matveeva O. Elements of pedagogical diagnostics in educational practice middle Importance and particularities of the procedures of the pedagogical diagnostics is revealled in article in educational practical person of the muddle ages. The analysed ways current, рубежного and total checking, the forms and methods of the assimilation of the knowledges and check their quality.

Key words: pedagogical diagnostics, the muddle ages, the forms and methods of the checking the assimilation of the knowledges.

Mironova M. To the problem of motivation of studies of future specialists is on psychology in the conditions of afterhigher education

In the article the actual questions of motivation of students are examined in the afterhigher education of psychologists in Institutes of higher. The necessity of account of motivation of students is grounded for the improvement of Afterhigher education of psychologists.

Key words: afterhigher education of psychologists, Afterhigher education, reason, motivation of studies.

Morokhov G. The content and features of the method of multimedia visualization in training the future managers

The article deals with the content and features of the method of multimedia visualization in training future managers of organizations.

Key words: multimedia, the method of multimedia visualization, training, managers of organizations.

Moskalenko E. The technology of forming motivation for professional communication of future pilots on international airlines

The article is devoted to consideration of the technology of studying, which implies implementation of didactic model of studying in the process of forming motivation for professional communication of future pilots on international airlines at Flight Establishments, which can increase motivation of cadets-pilots in the process of studying professional English.

Key words: technology of studying, didactic model, professional communication of pilots, motivation.

Moskaleva L. Personal determinants of future teachers in adulthood

The article deals with the peculiarities of the changes caused by age and personality characteristics of prospective teachers during adolescence. The author analyzes a number of specific features that are important for building the educational process in higher education.

Key words: education, values, future teachers, future educators.

Musaev K. Systematization of research on the development of technical skills

We consider the classification and characteristics of technical skills in research of various scientists. Analyzed and systematized identification and development of technical skills in primary school students in extracurricular activities.

Key words: category of "abilities", technical skills, mental characteristics of primary school pupils in extra-curricular technology.

Nikolenko L. Determination of concept of extracurricular activity, directed on realization of communication potential of student association

In the article definiciya is certain "extracurricular activity, directed on realization of communication potential of student association", the purpose of extracurricular work is exposed in this direction.

Key words: extracurricular work, of communication potential, education, student association.

Partola V. Use of the project, as a form of intellectual abilities of younger schoolboys in the Waldorf School

The implementation of project method as an effective mean of forming the intellectual skills of Valdorf school pupils is analyzed. The main types of projects which are used in Valdorf education practice are characterized. They are: keeping the "epoch" exercise-book by pupils, projects for certain subjects, individual or collective projects within over- or inter-subjects. It is cleared up that using projects assists in the systematic mastering of intellectual skills, their independent and creative using, the vide transfer of mastered skills to the new situations.

Key words: Waldorf education, "a landmark book," project method.

Poluboyarina I. The Problem of the discovery and developments to gifted personality in USA

Analysis educational politicians USA is comparatively given In article to gifted young people, stand out the particularities of their education and education.

Key words: abilities, gifts, educational programs, the individual plans.

Popik V. Formation of professional competence of teachers of educational institutions through an effective model of service methodology

The author of the article analyzes the structure of methodical activity in the educational centers and figures out the approaches that are aimed to construct a cyclic system of the improvement of professional competence. The author also defines modular systems of the improvement of teachers' professional competence in the framework of innovational development of school.

Key words: competence; professional teachers' competence; educational, methodical, technological, reflexive component; model; methodical service; methodical activity; professional self training; professional self education.

Popova E. Features professional future skipper and essence of their professional competence

In this article features of a professional work of the navigator are opened. It determines the essence of the professional competence of future marine specialists.

Key words: professional work, competence, competence approach, navigation.

Portjan M. Features of business qualities of the future teacher

In the article on the basis of the analysis of the scientific literature features of business qualities of the teacher, in particular, responsibility and organizing abilities are considered.

Key words: business qualities, responsibility, organizing abilities.

Prikhodchenko K. Prayer as a literary genre

Genres of prayer, its use in different periods of Ukrainian writers in his work. Performed a comparative analysis of the types of prayer.

Key words: prayer, a literary genre, the theological level, the adaptation of the genre of sacred signs of the sample.

Prikhodchenko K., Gorpinchenko G. Systemic model of personality able to exercise artistic and design abilities

In the article the system model of personality apt is considered at a display artistically designer capabilities, concentrated attention on forming of such relations of growing personality, basis of which creation comes forward. The offered model determines practical work assignments in development of creative personality of junior schoolboy.

Key words: creative activity, creative personality, cognitive activity, creative capabilities.

Prusak V. Elements of future designers environmental training on the basis of a systematic approach

The article provides a theoretical foundation of the ecological system component composition of training future designers. It is clarified that ecological competence of different levels should be choosen as the components of future designers' environmental training, which are formed in the process of studying specific disciplines, and are integrated into ecological competence of the designer according to his specialty.

Key words: eco design, system approach, system components, core competencies, integrated environmental competence.

Revenko I. The essence of future humanities teachers' education to artistic and aesthetic education of teenagers

The article is revealed the essence of future humanities teachers' education to artistic and aesthetic education of teenagers. The essence of the concept of "readiness" in modern pedagogy is analyzed.

Key words: psychological and pedagogical readiness, artistic and aesthetic education.

Ryabko I. Axiological foundation of ethics for public servants

In this article moral values of civil servants' professional activities are reviewed. Universal, public and professional values of their behavior are analyzed. Requirements which must comply with the ethical values of public servant's professional activities are determined.

Key words: state service, professional values, service ethics, professional morality.

Shapoval E. The psychological aspects of a problem of interest

In the article on the basis of the analysis of the psychological and pedagogical literature the essence, structure and components of interest and informative interest, is shown interrelation of interest with propensities and abilities of the person.

Key words: interest, informative interest, propensities, abilities.

Shapolova V. Problems of formation and development of corporate culture in higher technical educational establishments

In the article the concept of "culture" and "corporate culture" is determined, several ways of classifying types and composition of organizational culture are discussed. A key role of corporate culture in the process of building harmonious and effective relations in organizations is revealed. Ways of formation and development of corporate culture in higher technical educational establishments are analyzed.

Key words: culture, corporate culture, personality of future specialist.

Sokyrko O. Some aspects of the original method of swimming training deaf children

The methods and tools that were used for swimming lessons for children with hearing impairments. Reveals the basic sequence of different media and creating special educational learning environment. The basic difficulties encountered in deaf children in the classroom for swimming. To optimize the process of swimming training deaf children 5-6 years, the author used an experimental system of gestures.

Key words: swimming, teaching, deaf under-fives, water environment, swimming skills.

Soshenko S., Pilipenko M. The account of specific features of entrants in process pre-university training

Conditions of educational activity in process pre-university training, qualitative structure of a contingent are characterised. It is proved necessity of the account of specific features of entrants for educational process. It is considered progress of entrants with use of methods and training forms accordingly group and specificity characteristics pre-university training.

Key words: specific features of entrants, interactive methods of training, an individualization and differentiation, pre-university training.

Stepaniuk E. Innovative methods of forming a research vatelskih skills of future teachers in primary schools

The article reveals the general characteristics of methods of innovation. Describes the potential of each method for the formation of the effective research skills of future teachers of primary school.

Key words: method, innovative teaching, innovative methods, the method projects, case method, role play, game designing-tion, the method of discussion, the method of computer support.

Sushchenko L. Educational dialogue as factor of the successful humanistically oriented co-operation of teacher and student

In the article an author exposes and analyses scientific principles of process of organization of educational dialogue as a factor of the successful humanistically oriented co-operation of teacher and student.

Key words: dialogue, educational dialogue, co-operation, humanism, communicative personality.

Sushchenko T. About the problem of modernisation of the system of in-plant training of teachers of higher school

In the article the necessity of scientific search of answer is reasonable for a question, what the system of in-plant training of teachers of higher school must be in Ukraine.

Key words: modernisation, system of preparation and in-plant training, teacher of higher school.

Tabinskaya S. The problem theoretical foundation of a enterprising competence in formation in the process of training the future teachers physical education in process humanitarian and social-economic preparation stating

The article discussed the national concept on problem of a enterprising competence. Grounds urgency of the development of the pedagogical conditions of the shaping of a enterprising competence beside future teachers of the physical education. The most reliable sphere of the introduction to author's concept – a cycle humanitarian and social-economic preparation determined.

Key words: approach of competence, teacher physical education, professional preparation, cycle humanitarian and social-economic preparation, enterprising competence.

Taran I. The use of student-centered learning in the process of preparing future teachers as a way to develop the personality of the teacher

The article revealed the essence of the concept of "personality-oriented education", "individual educational trip." Highlights the main stages, the design principles of individual educational routes that allow you to adjust the educational process. The features of the design of individual educational route students.

Key words: personality-oriented education, individual educational route.

Tkach A. Weaver Issues the study and dissemination of best teaching experience in the pages of educational media 50s

The article is devoted to the study, compilation and dissemination of best teaching practices. In this paper the peculiarities of the views of scientists on the issues of determining the essence of good teaching experience, its dissemination and implementation in practice of education. The main stages of studying advanced pedagogical experience.

Key words: advanced educational experience, teachers-innovators, the educational process, higher education, creativity, idea stages.

Tokarieva A. To the question of intercultural communicative competence development in ukrainian tertiary education

Several contemporary approaches to the question of intercultural communication are analyzed in the article. Based on this analysis, the definitions are given to "intercultural communicative competence' and 'development of intercultural communicative competence".

Key words: intercultural communicative competence, development of intercultural communicative competence, intercultural communication.

Vasilenko M. Meaningful algorithm for the organization and legal advice

In the articles maintenance of consultative activity, is exposed in-process lawyers. The professional features of the legal advising are certain, technologies of cooperation of lawyer are described with clients. The requirements of consultative activity are found out to professional preparation of students of legal specialities.

Key words: legal advising, legal professions, technology of advising, stages of advising, maintenance of consultative activity.

Yaroslavskaya L. Efficiency of teaching conditions for overcoming educational barriers: an analysis of the results of experiment

In the article the extremely burning problem of overcoming of pedagogical barriers in high school is described. The main results of the experiment are shown, analyzed and explained. The aim of the experiment is to find out what kind of influence the following educational conditions have on the process of successful overcoming of pedagogical barriers: providing subjects of educational process with learning the information about the pedagogical barriers and their overcoming in the process of educational cooperation of lecturers and students; providing subjects of educational process with gaining the practical experience of positive cooperation in the process of creating a favourable emotional and psychological climate during the studies.

Key words: pedagogical barriers, educational conditions, educational cooperation.

Zakharina E. Cultural studies approach to the training of future teachers of physical culture to the extra-curricular recreational and educational activities.

The article describes the cultural studies approach to training future teachers of physical culture to the extra-curricular recreational and educational activities requiring students striving for high professionalism, the development of cultural traits, the ability of self-improvement, the formation of a highly cultured and physically healthy personality.

Key words: cultural studies approach, future teachers of physical culture, extra-curricular recreational and educational activities.

Zaskaleta S. Modernization of training specialist agricultural sector in Ukraine

The article deals with the problem of modernization of system of vocational training of specialists for agrarian brunch of economy in Ukraine. It is determined its basic factors. They are social and economical. The author also determined that main ways of modernizatio of vocational training of specialists for agrarian brunch are formed in the state standards.

Key words: vocational training, common trends, modernization of system of vocational training of specialists.

Zhabenko O. Regulatory support training of scientific and pedagogical staff

In this article the main regulations governing the training of scientific and pedagogical staff are analyzes, a mismatch of some of the provisions provided in this process are identified and characterized.

Key words: scientific and scientifically pedagogical staffs, scientific as well as scientific and pedagogical personnel training system, post graduate student, PhD students.